

Ask us anything: Inclusion for library staff

A parent peer worker-led Q&A on making your library more inclusive as part of your Community of Practice

Meet Libraries as Community Connectors team members Kylie, Marie and Rob to discuss any questions or concerns about including children with developmental delay and disability in your library programs.

Kylie and Marie are trained parent peer workers at Plumtree who are raising a child with a disability or developmental delay. They liaise with parents and carers, develop and facilitate programs, and collaborate with the team to provide support for families. Rob is a State Library of NSW visiting scholar and library ambassador.

This workshop is a safe space for discussion and sets up a community of practice for library staff across Australia.

Topics to explore include:

- Different scenarios to enhance inclusion in your library programs
- Information that families have shared with us in our surveys
- Opportunities for libraries to share information on what they're doing well
