

Vietnamese MyTime

in-person or online

Connect & learn together

Vietnamese MyTime is a welcoming community for Vietnamese-speaking parents and carers of children with disabilities, developmental delays, or concerns about their child's development.

Facilitated by Vy Phan, Plumtree's Vietnamese family support worker, this informal gathering offers a relaxing space to share information, support each other, and unwind. It's a chance to connect with others who understand your experiences and get the support you need.

In addition to socializing, the group may feature guest speakers on topics of interest, and members have the opportunity to plan sessions around their specific needs. It's a supportive environment where you can take a break from appointments and therapy.
